

1. During the epidemic A stay home alone. Because of the epidemic, he couldn't have chance to enjoy activity with his friend but only stay in his room, so he hate the epidemic. To combat boredom, he playing games with friends online. But he thinks this is only a temporary solution, he prefers going out and doing something like watch movies or having meals together to playing game. He hope there exist a way that can communicate with friend freely and safely.
2. Students need to have lessons online during the epidemic, but B is annoyed that he can't understand the homework though he listened carefully in class. Because of the epidemic he can't find someone for help easily. Getting the homework done seems harder than ever for him. So during the epidemic he can only use some online learning tools like "zoom" or "ding ding" to ask for help with his classmates. He doesn't like this kind of solution and urgently need a better way.
3. C is a students who loves sports. During the epidemic many large sports venues closed and he can't find a way to improve his physical fitness. To deal with this problem he watched some fitness videos online and do sport at home. But for him finding a better way is urgent.